Local Happenings About Amador's County Seat

Dr A. W. Sutherland, dentist, left Wednesday morning, with the intention of hunting up another location, probably in the southern part of the state.

Geo. B. Heath, who has been in Jackson the past few weeks on business, was joined by his wife and grandson.

The Austrian-Croatian Benevolent Society initiated two new members at their meeting held in Jackson Sunday night. The new members were George Seekul and Marco Kusley.

The long drawn out report of the expert employed at $5 per day to examine the books of county officials, appears in full in this issue. Our columns are too crowded this week to comment upon the document. We shall take occasion to comment hereafter. We can only say that it is the most expensive and at the same time disappointing effort in that line the county has ever received. From a practical standpoint it is worthless.

The four months old boy of Mr and Mrs Ernest Fisher was christened in the Catholic church last Sunday morning. In honor of the affair, and also of Mrs Fisher's birthday anniversary on that day, a banquet was spread at the residence afterwards, to which a large number of neighbors and friends were invited. The company had a thoroughly enjoyable time.

BELLWETHER MINE JUMPED

Bright Estate Victim of Peculiar Act of H. D. Emerson

A ripple of excitement was created last Tuesday on account of the attempt to jump the Bellwether or Bright mine, belonging to the estate of S. W. Bright, which is now in course of probate. On that day H. D. Emerson, accompanied by two others, repaired to the grounds, and staked off claims, and posted two location notices, and had the same placed on record. All sorts of rumors were afloat as soon as the facts became known; the question was asked on every hand what this strange action meant, and who were the moving spirits in the scheme. Inasmuch as the stakes were packed from the Ledger office, we deem it necessary to state that we were entirely ignorant of any intention to locate the mine, that we do not approve of the act, had nothing whatever to do with its conception or execution. Furthermore we denounce the act as a move bordering on insanity, and perpetrated from motives which are anything but commendable.

The mine in question was sold by the administrator recently, and the confirmation of the sale comes up before the superior court to-morrow. From this it would seem that the impelling motive was to influence the bidding at the sale—in other words to prejudice the disposition of the property by throwing a cloud over the title. The excuse put forward for the jumping act is that the mine is held under a townsite deed. The deed was granted in early days, and the property has been peaceably held under it ever since, and no question as to its validity was raised until now. The consensus of opinion is that the location will have no other effect than the initial surprise created. Reports are current that parties are prepared to bid at the sale tomorrow, with a view to the development of the mine, and that they are not likely to be scared by this foolish attempt to jump it.

Mr. Detert, Supt. of the Ziela mine was interviewed regarding the Bellwether affair and expressed his utmost contempt for the act. When told that a rumor was circulated to the effect that he was interested in the case, he emphatically denied he was ever previously approached on the subject.

Italian Benevolent Society Picnic

At a meeting of the Italian Benevolent Society held in Sutter Creek last Sunday it was resolved to have the Italian picnic this year as heretofore at Fullen's grove. An executive committee was appointed to take charge of the affair, as follows: C Boro, chairman, A Malatesta, D Berta, M Mazzini, all of Sutter Creek, and A Piccardo of Jackson. The picnic will take place the first Sunday in June.

City Election to Take Place Monday Next

The city election will take place Monday next. The voters have a sufficient variety of candidates to select from, and ought to be able to make up an efficient set of city officials. The indications are that an unprecedented heavy vote will be cast.

IONE CHORAL CONCERT FINE

Jackson Music Lovers Were Delighted With Entertainment

The concert given by the Ione Choral Club on April 2nd at the Ione Pavilion was greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

Mr Gordon's enchanting work, from the first note of his selection, "Abstinence," showed him to be a finished, tenor singer. The pure sweet tones of his melodious voice were drunk in until the mind was carried completely away from the dull cares of the world and floated on the breeze of fairy life. He was repeatedly encoered and responded with Scotch songs well known to all.

Mr Henley's singing was good, his full barytone voice carried with it a decided mark of excellence. The Choral Club done itself credit displaying an elegant degree of harmony.

The program was as follows: 'Overture,' Mrs Jackson; 'Sleep song,' choral club; 'At nightfall,' Miss Harris; prolonged, 'I'Pagliacci,' Mr Henley; 'Dry yo eyes,' choral club; (a), 'Abstinence,' (b), 'Ario,vesta la luibba,' Mr Gordon; 'Where are you going to?', choral club; 'Winter lullaby,' Mrs Vieusserux; selected, Mrs Henley; 'Ben Bolt', choral club (a), Loch Lomond, (b), Border Ballad, Mr Gordon; 'The Miller's wooing,' choral club.

A large crowd went to Ione from Jackson and Sutter Creek, leaving a 7: p. m., and returning at 12. Those who went by train were: Miss Piccardo, Miss Gardella, Miss McLaughlin, Miss Quirolo, Miss Sutherland, Ida Smith. Mrs Smith, Judge Fred V. Wood and wife, Mr McPherson and wife, Harvey Mason, Elmer Boydston, Julius Piccardo, Chester Holz, Robert Kerr, Alex Ross, Victor Rocco, William Penry, Jr., Frank Brown, Z. Dal Porto.

An auto party of 6 left Jackson, composed of Miss Ratto, Miss Sanguinetti, Miss Ballard, Edw. Kay, Gus Leverone and William Hess.

NOTED PIONEER CAREER CLOSED

Joseph Wrigglesworth Peacefully Laid to Rest

Dead in the flesh, but not in the soul, Dead to the living, alive in the mold; God in his wisdom hath taken away The man of the flesh that's a spirit today.

Another pioneer in the person of Joseph Wrigglesworth sr. has passed to the long-away home. He was born in Russell, St. Lawrence county, New York, August 8, 1838. He was of English extraction, his father having been born in England, where he was married. Soon after this he came to New York, where he died. Mr Wrigglesworth left the home of his birth when twenty years old, in company with one of his friends, Volney Ellis, for the land of gold. He came around the Horn to San Francisco. From there he came to the thriving town of Sutter Creek, landing in the summer of 1858. He remained in California for three years, when he returned to New York. In 1864 the draft to secure more soldiers began, and in New York resulted in a fierce riot. At this time his name fell into the lot that were drafted. By some means he was apprised of the fact before he was officially notified. Seeing his chance he forthwith jumped a bounty, taking another man's place for the sum of $800.

On December 30, 1865, he was married to Lydia A. Ames, of Herman, New York. In the summer of 1866, he and his brother George, now one of the engineers at the Zeila mine, came by steamer to California, via the Isthmus, and settled in Sutter Creek, remaining there until 1867, when his wife came. Shortly after this he went to Virginia City, where they remained one winter. From there they went to Truckee, at that time known as Coburn station. The place was soon after burned down, leaving only one house and barber shop standing as the weird sentinels over the destruction of the village. Like magic, out of the ashes came the town now known as Truckee. Mr Wrigglesworth was there when the gold and silver spikes were driven at Ogden joining the Central and Union Pacific railroads, forming the transcontinental line joining the east with the west Pacific coast. As the last spike had been driven and the gold and silver ones were ready, the telegraph broke the rews to Truckee. Suddenly bells rang, whistles blew and men and women of the place shouted in triumph.

H. S. Cobb Held Under Heavy Bond

H. S. Cobb, charged with felony in failing to support his three children, was examined before justice Rose in Sutter Creek this week, and held to answer before the superior court, with bonds fixed at $1000. Failing to give bonds he is held in the county jail. He is willing to contribute toward the support of the destitute children if given a chance. The grandmother of the children made the complaint, for the purpose of forcing him to support them, and not with the idea of sending him to state prison. It is likely that he will plead guilty, and be paroled, as the only practicable method of getting support for the children. The defendant is a painter by trade, and can easily earn money enough to maintain himself and family, were it not for a thriftless disposition.

MINE NEWS ALONG LODGE

Treasurer Mine Installing New Hoisting Engine

The Treasurer mine located between the Bunker Hill and the Fremont is making marked progress. A new hoisting engine is being installed, and a pump put in operation. The engine will have a hoisting capacity of 500 feet per minute. This mine has a ledge though only down 400 feet, that is reported to be pay rock by the officials. There are many other improvements planned and a bright future is predicted.

A new retort building has been erected, and up-to-date facilities have been installed at the South Eureka mine. The cottages have been in the hands of carpenters, and new fences have been erected, very much improving the general appearance of the surface workings of the company. Four horses have been purchased by the company, the animals have an average weight of over 1500 pounds and constitute an elegant team.

The Central Eureka mine have their shaft down to a depth of nearly 2700 feet, and expect to connect with the South Eureka shaft about the first of next week. The proposed connection will be made on the 27th level.

Mr Carr, superintendent of the Kennedy Extension, left Sunday morning, accompanied by his family, for San Francisco. The family have vacated the Stasal residence, and it is understood will not return for a while at least. It is said Mr Carr has gone on business concerning the mine.

REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

Records and Books of County Officers In Good Order

To the honorable board of supervisors of Amador county, California: Gentlemen: I hereby submit the following report of my investigation of the books of account and the records of the various county officers of this county for the period of time beginning Jan. 1, 1905, and ending July 1, 1909.

Bonds of Officers: I find that all county officers have given bonds in proper form and in accordance with amounts prescribed some time since.

Officers Generally. I find that the various officers are complying with the law in regard to the keeping of various records and indexes such records required of them, and that their various offices are kept in a neat and orderly manner, and that both principals and deputies are attentive to their duties and courteous in their treatment of those who have occasion to visit their offices.

Assessor's Office. I find the work of this office carried on with strict attention to detail.

The fieldbooks used in this office during the time covered by my report, were not as comprehensive as they should have been, causing a constant reference to original statements by those seeking information. I have personally inspected the new field books introduced into this office by the present assessor, and will state that in my opinion, they cover and correct all the deficiencies of the old system.

After a careful checking of the road, poll and state poll taxes, as well as the

FOR A COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL.

A petition is being circulated throughout the county requesting the supervisors to include in their election proclamation for the forthcoming general election the submission to a popular vote of the proposition to establish a county high school. The agitation was started by ladies of Sutter Creek but the interest in the subject is county-wide. Amador is one of the very few counties in the state that is without such an institution of learning. We have a district high school at Ione, but this, however useful to the territory concerned, does not adequately meet the requirements of a centrally located county high school. The Ledger favors a county high school. We are aware that some opposition may be developed on the ground of the increased tax rate it will be likely to entail. The people of the county have reason to be tender on this subject. They are taxed to the limit of endurance. They are in no mood to stand, either with or without a high school, any additional financial burden. We venture the opinion that Amador county can support a creditable high school without one cent additional tax rate. We hold that we are fooling away—call it graft or any other name you please—every year enough money to defray the cost of a well-appointed high school. The road fund could easily be shorn to the extent of making up the difference, and that too without necessarily impairing the efficiency of road work. And when the issue comes to be squarely presented we hope this view will be insisted upon. Give us a county high school, but save the taxpayers by lopping off waste in road fund, bounty laws, costly expediting that looks at the spigot and overlooks the bunghole, and all other clogs in the way of good government.

The location of the school is outside the pale of discussion just now. We take no stock in that selfish view that favors the school provided the spire of the building can be seen from the voter's fireside. Let us vote the school first, and talk about the site afterward.

Theodore Roosevelt as soon as he emerged from the hunting grounds of Africa, started a commotion. This was to be expected of a man of his temperament and force of character. The notoriety was entirely unsought and unexpected on his part. In Cairo the ex-president aroused the native Egyptians by dwelling on the advancement of the land of the Pharaohs under British rule. The statements were perfectly true, for the Egypt of today is immeasurably ahead of its miserable plight under the domination of the unspeakable Turk. Still the home-rulers of that ancient land, who have never demonstrated their capacity for self-government, took exception to this implied belittlement of themselves by the exaltation of the foreign rulers, and a great hubbub was the result. The speech was in reality a headlong rush into Egyptian politics, although the strenuous speaker had not the least idea that his remarks would be twisted by the fanatical element as a reflection upon the natives. The incident shows how impossible it is for a transient visitor, however well informed generally, to correctly gauge the conflicting sentiments of a people by the palpable evidences of prosperity which greet him on every hand.

In Rome the distinguished American met with another unpleasant incident. As a matter of courtesy he proposed to call upon the Pope, as the head of the strongest sect of Christendom. The Pope, through his secretary, stated that he would be pleased to give him an audience, providing he gave the Methodist mission in Rome a wide berth. Of course, Roosevelt declined to be restricted in his actions, and the contemplated visit to the Vatican did not take place. This incident has stirred up a whole lot of discussion, in spite of all efforts to treat the matter as a merely personal affair. The conduct of Roosevelt in this ordeal was dignified and befitting and will command general approval. We look for more sensations during his tour of Europe, no matter how guarded he may be in speech and deportment. But Theodore Roosevelt can be relied upon to prove equal to any emergency in upholding the honor of the American nation in his contact with the old world powers.

H. E. Thorpe, proprietor of the Jackson auto repair shop, has completed plans to start an auto stage line from Jackson to Ione and return. The auto is scheduled to leave Jackson at 8 a. m., and reach Ione one hour later. Returning, it will leave Ione upon the arrival of the Southern Pacific passenger train, and consume about an hour in its trip to Jackson.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Jackson Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Jackson readers.

Mrs. Mary Lema, 511 E. Washington St., Stockton, Cal., says: "I am pleased to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as I have used them with the most satisfactory results. I suffered for some time from kidney and bladder trouble and no matter what remedy I tried, I received no relief. My kidneys were disordered and irregular passages of the kidney secretions annoyed me. My back was very sore and at times I was lame upon arising in the morning. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills and procuring a box, I began their use, according to directions. In a few weeks I was free from kidney trouble and I have not been bothered since. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a number of my friends and will continue to do so.

Steals Away and

Wed in Sacramento.

Ere we're aware, Young Lochinvar has again appeared on the scene, and over the border he has carried the fair Ellen and made her his bride. The daring of the bold young Scot has this time been exemplified by George H. Petois, and the fair bride was Miss Lulu M. Bleeker. The happy climax to this courtship occurred last Saturday, March 26, and the ceremony was performed in Sacramento, by the Rev. Rodda, Episcopal rector of that city.

Both the contracting parties are popular amongst the younger set of this city, and to a major portion of their friends the marriage was an entire surprise. Mr. Petois is employed in this city in the capacity of fireman by the Southern Pacific, and the bride is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. W. Sharron.

The newly married couple will continue to make their home in this city, their many friends will wish them "bon voyage" through life.—Roseville Tribune.

Saved from the Grave

"I had about given up hope, after nearly four years of suffering from a severe lung trouble," writes Mrs. M. L. Dix, of Clarksville, Tenn. "Often the pain in my chest would be almost unbearable and I could not do my work, but Dr. King's New Discovery has made me feel like a new person. Its best medicine made for the throat and lungs." Obsolete coughs, stubborn colds, hay fever, la grippe, asthma, croup, bronchitis and hemorrhages, hoarseness and whooping cough, yield quickly to this wonderful medicine. Try it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Spagnoli's drug store.

Sheep Grazing Law

A Washington dispatch says: Herders cannot graze sheep in the California forests in defiance of the regulations of the agricultural department and the forest service. This announcement was called forth by a recent decision of the supreme court of the United States upholding Judge Wellborn in the Federal Circuit court of California, who acquitted three herders charged with criminally grazing sheep in the national forests. It was declared that the grazing rules would be enforced.

Situated at the head of the great Sacramento Valley, with electric roads projected in every direction and being rapidly built, only 275 miles from San Francisco and Oakland, and 185 miles from Sacramento, to which points electric power is now transmitted from Shasta County, the market is practically unlimited.

Eat What

You want of the food you need

Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it. Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly. When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay.

We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you.

This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you.

It would bankrupt us. The dollar bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Alluring Surroundings.

A young man who had just gone to Philadelphia to take employment in a business house was casting about for a suitable room for himself in Germantown when he chanced upon one in a fine house overlooking a cemetery.

He was a little doubtful about the terms and more than doubtful about the cemetery.

"Your rate is pretty high," he murmured hesitatingly to the landlady. "But considering the cheerful view, sir," ventured the mistress of the house.

"Cheerful view?" exclaimed that applicant for lodgings. "Is that what you call a view that embraces a graveyard?"

"Why, certainly," was the response. "Just think how comfortin' and cheerin' it will be when you look out of your window and think you're not there!"—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Deceiving the Widow.

A healthy looking woman dressed in deep mourning stepped on to the platform scales and requested the grocer's clerk to ascertain her weight. He looked and said, "One hundred and forty pounds."

"You made a mistake of twelve pounds in that woman's weight," said another man who had also watched the scales. "She weighed 152 pounds instead of 140."

"I know that," said the clerk, "but she never would have forgiven me if I had told her so. That woman's husband died about six weeks ago. She has gained seven pounds in that time, but to keep her in good humor with herself I had to make her think she had lost five. I don't know why it is, but anybody who has suffered bereavement seems to consider it a disgrace to take on flesh. That woman has been weighed three times since her husband died. She would be shocked if she knew she had gained right along. Fortunately she is too nearsighted to read the scales herself, so it is easy to make her think she is wasting away."

How to Pasteurize Milk.

Place a pan of cold water on the stove and put a vessel containing the milk in the pan. As soon as the water begins to boil take it off. Add a small teaspoonful of soda to each quart of milk. Put the milk in a bottle and put in a cork. Milk treated in this way will keep sweet in hot weather for twenty-four hours.

How to Treat Burns.

Carron oil, a mixture composed of equal parts of lime water and raw linseed oil, is an excellent remedy and can be used with perfect safety. It should be applied liberally and covered with cotton batting (not absorbent cotton).

Law and the Queen.

The quaintness of many provisions of British law is curiously illustrated in the status of the queen of England. So far as her majesty's private business is concerned, she is not regarded by the laws and customs of England as a married woman at all. She is the only woman in Great Britain who does not come within the scope of the married woman's property act. The idea in all this is that affairs of state consume all the time of the king, and therefore no responsibility for the queen's private business rests upon him. If the queen contracted debts in her husband's name he would not be responsible for them, as any other husband in the United Kingdom would. The king cannot be sued for debt, but the queen can be. Should the king die, some authorities hold that the queen could not marry again, in case she wished to, without the license of the king's successor.—New York Tribune.

Teaching a Dog.

To teach a dog to "speak" hold some dainty before him when he is hungry. At first he will not know what is wanted, but say "Speak!" to him, and when he barks, which he is pretty sure to do when he finds the morsel still beyond his reach, feed it to him at once. He will soon associate the word "speak" with the bark and the dainty.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES

News of Interest from Towns Surrounding County Seat

Mrs Chas. F. Jones and daughter, Miss Lucie, had rather an unpleasant experience early last Wednesday morning. The ladies attended the O. E. S. chapter meeting Tuesday night and it was long after midnight when the gathering broke up and the ladies looked for their horse and buggy, only to find that they had disappeared. As all the halter was gone, Mrs Jones surmised that he had on two previous occasions untied securely knotted ropes while fastened in the barn. Nothing daunted they started to walk the mile and half or two miles home as they could not remain in town till daylight, thinking that the horse had possibly reached home and was waiting at the gate, or he might be down somewhere on the road with a smashed buggy and in need of assistance. Sure enough the animal had reached home and was trying to get into the barn lot when the ladies arrived, but unfortunately the horse had crossed the creek and the water was so high they could not cross. However, by calling repeatedly they aroused Mr Jones, and he soon collared the runaway and caused him to recross the creek for the ladies. The next morning the track showed that the animal had taken the buggy over side hills and all sorts of impassable ground without even breaking a strap, while endeavoring to get into the lot.—Citizen.

Last Sunday night thieves secured entrance through a rear window into the Utica saloon, from which place they carried away a cabinet of gold specimens valued at $15. From the saloon cash drawer was also taken $10 in money. This latter sum represented the proceeds from the sale of tickets for a raffle of the cabinet, which belonged to a man named Earheart, formerly of Sheep Ranch. Nothing else was taken from the saloon, as the cabinet and money was evidently what the thieves wanted. No clue has been secured as to who the parties were.—Angels Record.

Chas. Zany filed suit in the superior court, Friday, April 1st, against the Rawhide Gold Mng. Co. Judgment is asked for $1972.83 and costs. The complaint alleges that March 1, 1908, Zany argued to board the men at the App mine, the Rawhide Co. to withhold from the pay of the miners the amount of board due and pay the same to Zany at each pay day. Zany also leased certain property from the Rawhide Co., and furnished a team and material to aid company. The amount alleged to be due as above, not including mine checks cashed is $3592.85. The Rawhide Co. purchased the debts owed by Zany to the amount of $1619.97, which are acknowledged by Zany, who claims a balance still due him of $1972.88.—Independent.

Soon after this Mr Wigglesworth and wife moved to Sierra valley. Here they remained until the winds and clouds indicated heavy snow storms. During this time their oldest daughter Clara was born.

From Sierra valley they went to Linden, San Joaquin county, where they settled on some valuable land near Mission bridge. They lived here until March, 1871, when selling out, they went back to the state of Michigan, where they remained four years. During this time their oldest son Joe was born, and the second daughter Sadie, now the wife of Harry Putnam.

In 1876 he returned to California, accompanied by James McCullough, and his sister Martha Mitchell. Mrs Wigglesworth remained behind. Soon after his wife and three children followed him. They lived at Amador City for a short time. Here their youngest son Claude was born.

Shortly after this, tiring of the place, they moved and settled upon government land now known as Aukum in El Dorado county, where he lived the balance of his days. He was the principal promoter, builder and owner of what is known as the Aukum telephone company. It extends for upwards of 30 miles in length with numerous branches leading from it. Mrs Wigglesworth has held the post office of that place since its inauguration, and creditably too at that.

Mr Wigglesworth, like all of human kind had his faults, but he was a good neighbor, warm hearted and generous. With his passing goes another leaf from the tree of our existence, one too that has seen with other pioneers, the state in its babyhood, that is now evolving into all grandeur and greatness, and when the pioneer leaves have been swept from the branches of the tree of primitive wilderness, the Native Sons and Daughters only wonder when they look at the shorn branches whither hath the tree decayed, and its leaves hath gone, whither absorbed by the decay of time that hath swept o'er it, leaving only a shadow in its place.

Where desolation reigns sheer and supreme, Reflecting its actions into a shadowy dream.

IONE AND VICINITY

The new choral clup of Ione, and especially its organizer, Homer Henley, have reason to congratulate themselves on the success of their first concert given at the pavilion in Ione on Saturday evening, April 2. Both from a financial and artistic standpoint, it was all that could be desired, and the audience are lavish in their praise of the effort.

Henley proved himself to be a skilled leader and past master in voice culture, as was clear from the hit made by the choral numbers, encores being lustily demanded.

Henley, as a solo, rendered the prologue to "L' Pagliacci," which was a severe test on his vocal talent. His success was shown by the applause and the demand for his return.

The "piece de resistance" of the evening, however, was McKenzie Gordon. It is doubtful if Caruso, the great Italian tenor, excels the Scotchman in rendering the aria "Vesta la Luibba," from L'Pagliacci. We are sure of one thing, however, and that is, the lone audience would give the palm to Gordon. The applause was thunderous, and he responded with that beautiful French piece, "Abstinence," in which, if possible, his rich tenor appeared to greater advantage. The audience would not be denied, and again and again had the singer to respond. The old favorite "Annie Lawrie" and several Scotch and Irish airs were charmingly rendered. The crowd went wild for more, but human endurance has an ending and Mr Gordon had to refuse, and he went out in a halo of glory unlike the halo of his friend Dr. McKim, for it was so large he couldn't possibly wear it over his ear.

About 75 of Jackson's representative people came down in a special train, and were unanimous in saying, We wouldn't have missed it for anything. Miss Geery is certainly a wonderful accompanist.

Let us have more of these concerts, for they are not only entertaining—they are an education.

We entirely agree with Mr Dunton, superintendent of the Preston school of industry, in his rational and humane manner of treating the boys under his charge. He seems to think that you get at the wrong part of a boy's anatomy with a paddle, and that kindness comes nearer the spot. O yes—

A kindly act is a kernel sown, That will grow to a goodly tree, Shedding its fruit when time has flown Down the gulf of eternity.

Mr Gordon was a visitor at the Preston school on Sunday last, as was also Miss Geery, and they must have felt amply repaid for their kindness in treating the boys to a concert of one hour's duration, by the way the boys shouted "They're all right."

Judge and Mrs Wood were visitors in our burg on Saturday. They took in the concert.

Julius Piccardo and sister were among the Jacksonians who took in the concert.

The lone school boys defeated Jackson grammar school last week to the tune of 11 to 10 on the home diamond. They promise to repeat the dose in Jackson on Saturday next.

Bob Bagley was a visitor at the county seat on Monday last.

E. F. Bryant, who has had the Grant Prouty ranch rented for the past three years, sold his dairy stock this week. He will move his family to Stockton in a few days.

Mrs Flanders of Lockford is visiting her son, A C Miner.

Harry Ringer is hauling corn from the Alford ranch.

S D Suttiff of Dry Creek sold a span of draft horses for five hundred dollars, to Joe Dufrene.

Mrs Myrtle Yager and Grace Barnett took their mother, Mrs H K Barnett to Sacramento, Sunday last for medical aid. From latest reports her condition was very serious.

Elsie Chitwood who has been home on a vacation, returned to San Jose, Monday, where she is attending Normal. There was quite a crowd at the dance in Buena Vista, Saturday night, and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Mrs Clarence Prouty and Miss Ella Scott of San Francisco are visiting their sister, Mrs Anson Prouty of Jackson Valley.

Anson Prouty is the census enumerator for township two.

A hog buyer from San Francisco is in this valley buying hogs. He bought 40 or 50 head from Jonathan Ringer.

DONT HIDE YOUR MONEY

The man who hides his money because he assumes to be afraid of banks forgets that it was the bank that perhaps made the prosperity possible which gave him his money making opportunities. Without the bank there would be no large commercial or business enterprises possible, salaries and wages would be low, and money making impossible. It is the bank in the exercise of its function in gathering together the funds of a community and putting them into active use that has brought prosperity.

To hide money is to hinder and hurt prosperity by restricting the circulation of money. Bring your money to the bank.

County Clerk.

I have carefully examined into the conduct of this office, and find that the court records, including minutes of proceeding had, orders made, registers of actions, and other records incident to the proceedings of the superior court have been kept in an excellent manner, all papers filed in a systematic manner, judgment rolls promptly made up, and indexes properly kept.

As clerk of the board of supervisors,

the minutes and other records required in the conduct of that branch of the office are correct in detail.

On the following pages I wrote the errors I have found in the collection of fees, and will state that the major portion of the errors are to be attributed to the adoption of any amendment to the fee bill, or rather the addition of fees in the interest of the law library fund which was separate and apart from the fees stated to be collected by the county clerk, and very naturally escaped attention for some time and the fees mentioned have in many instances never been collected. The amendment referred to was effective March, 1907.

and all work promptly and properly attended to. In this office, I have only examined the records up to June, 1909, and my report covers only the work of the late recorder, D A Patterson. I find that all settlements have been made of fees collected at the proper time.

Very few errors or omissions occurred during the time covered by my investigations.

county treasury during each of the following years:

Superintendent of Schools.

I have carefully checked the work of this office and find that for the entire time it has been conducted in a thorough going, painstaking manner. Apportionmade and by a mutual check system both the school superintendent and treasurer have avoided errors in this branch of county finance.

Sheriff.

I find all fees collected in this office have been settled for with the treasurer;

that the system adopted by the present

sheriff is plain and shows at a glance just what service has been performed in a given case and the fee charged therefor.

The jail register is also properly kept.

I have found few errors in the matter of fees, a list of which appears upon the following pages.

The result of my findings in this office is that the county is indebted to the sheriff, U S Gregory, in the sum of eighty-four cents.

Tax Collector.

I have carefully examined every entry made in the tax rolls of 1904, 1905,

1906, 1907 and 1908.

As the computations of the auditor given the tax collector and as this office was charged each year a sum equal to the tax computed on the total roll for that year, at the respective rate of each of those years. After the credits allowed the tax collector for collections made by the assessor and for cancellations on account of erroneous assessments, together with the amount finally delinquent as shown by the delinquent roll. If he collects a sum which upon settlement balances his account then his collections must be correct. I find that

PREHISTORIC WOMEN TALE

Iron Jawed and Big Nose Says Surgeon Savant

In the museum of the Royal college of surgeons is a famous skull, says the Westminster Gazette. Discovered at Gibraltar many years ago, it has been agreed to be that of a human being of prehistoric times.

In an interview discarding technicalities, Professor Keith spoke on his conclusions formed on examination of the skull.

"The skull I have little doubt, is that of a woman," he said. "From the size of her brain, she must have been shrewd—probably a woman, too, of considerable spirit. One can reckon pretty accurately, also the time at which she lived. It must have been at least 600,000 years ago.

"From the jaws and the fact that the muscles of mastication were remarkably strong it is possible to deduce what this prehistoric woman ate. Nuts and roots probably entered very largely into her diet. She was in the habit of eating things which required a great amount of mastication before much nourishment could be derived from them—hence the unusual development of the jaw muscles.

"The men 600,000 years ago were, without doubt, long armed. Their legs were short. They had abnormally strong, thick necks. It is clear, too, I think, that their brains were far larger than has previously been conceded. It seems reasonably certain, too, that they were able to speak to each other. From my examination of the brain cavity of the skull I have been able to deduce quite clearly that the cells controlling speech were there.

"This woman lived at a period before houses were thought of. Some sort of rude shelter must have been her abode. And the men of this far distant age must have spent most of their time in roaming about in mobs. Probably they were hunters. And I should say they fished too. The prehistoric woman's skull indicates that she had a large nose. Her eyes, too, must have been prominent. Her palate was a third larger than that of the women to-day."

Smoke Nuisance At Camp Seco

Mr Lockridge, president of the Penn Chemical Company sent for the copper smoke committee last week for a meeting in answer to the resolution passed at the last public meeting granting the copper company 40 days to state what they intended to do as regards to the copper smoke fumes. Mr Lockridge spent half a day explaining to the committee the working system of their dry chlorination plant in Georgetown, Colorado, also the great saving in values over the smelting system, which two points he endeavored to show the committee would be a great enough inducement for them to install the plant here at Camp Seco by being a good financial investment, outside of the copper fumes question, which he claimed he was as anxious to eliminate as the committee. Mr Lockridge stated to the committee that they wanted to get the plant at Georgetown started in May of this year, but that they would surely get it going by June. As soon as started they would ship at least 100 tons of Campo Seco ore and treat it there at Georgetown, and that if it proved successful, which he had every reason, by test assays and reports from experts, to believe it would do, they would immediately install a similar plant at Campo Seco. That one stroke, eliminating the smoke problem entirely as the dry chlorination plant has no fires whatever, all the drying being done by electric power. Mr Lockridge talked very fair to the committee at this meeting, claiming that he has been studying this proposition for three years, and the dry process was the best plan yet discovered, was his belief. While the committee made no promises they believe that a couple of months is such a short time in which to solve so important a problem; that unless the people insist to the contrary they will not ask the chairman to call another meeting until sometime in June or until the company has had time to make good. Mr Lockridge's statements were made both in person and writing to the committee.

How to Serve Christmas Breakfast. Band Concert Drew Big Audience

In one home where there are several half grown children last year's Christmas breakfast will always be remembered. The plain baked apple which was at each plate when the family sat down wore a holiday look simply because atop of each was a tiny dab of thick cream in which was set a large red candied cherry. It was unusual, and everybody noticed it.

With the cereal was passed, instead of the sugar of every day, a low glass dish filled with curly shavings of maple sugar. These had simply been cut from a cake of rather soft maple sugar with a sharp knife. It was the first time it had ever been so served in the family, and the little folks especially were delighted. Though nothing but boiled eggs formed the principal dish, these came to the table cuddled down in a nest made of Christmas greens—in reality, little sprays left from the trimming of the house. It was arranged on a medium sized meat platter, the green sprays being piled sufficiently high at the edges to make the nest quite realistic. You can imagine how it delighted the children.—Delineator.

Jackson Military band, under the leadership of the new director Schultz, is showing marked progress. The concert given on Sunday last from the balcony at Love's hall, was enjoyed by a large crowd, who congregated on Main street.

A program of 8 selections were rendered which consisted of pieces no less difficult than Indian Intermezzo, "Os-Ka-Loo-Sa-Loo," Overture, "The Knight Errant," Caprice "Garden of Love." These pieces, though difficult, were ably handled by each individual player.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

This Law has been Reversed

The state law making vaccination obligatory for all children in the public schools of California has been declared unconstitutional by Judge Lucas F. Smith in a decision rendered in the superior court of Santa Cruz county. The ruling was given on the petition of the state board of health for a writ of mandate excluding from the public schools of Watsonville all children who had not been vaccinated. Judge Smith held that as the law does not apply to children in private schools it is to be construed as class legislation. Rich parents, he declares, could send their offspring to private schools, thus escaping the application of the law, while those less fortunate would be compelled to conform to it. School trustees are held to be the sole judges as to the necessity of vaccination.—Angels Record.

Deafness Can not be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars or any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A New Kind of Soldering—A Reinforce Road for Automobiles—Another Mystery of the Heavens—A Balloon Camera—Electric Removal of Oil—Improved Protective Slates—A Motor of All Work—Platinum That Is Part Platinum—Germs at High Speed.

"Amalgamite," designed for making joints in plumbing and other lead-work, is a very thin ribbon of easily fusible metal, that, having been treated with a composition to prevent oxidation, is placed between the surfaces to be joined, and on the application of heat melts and causes the other metals to amalgamate at a temperature below their normal melting-point. The process is adapted for joining brass and copper parts to lead pipe, uniting pieces of lead pipe, and many other purposes. Quite unlike ordinary soldering, the amalgamite is claimed to pass into the surfaces joined by molecular absorption, causing the junction to become stronger than other parts of the material. Severe tests have demonstrated this greater strength. The process is stated to give more economical as well as stronger work than any other, and a wide range of applications is foreseen.

The reinforced macadam pavement under trial near Paris, the idea of M. Guiet, has a foundation of concrete 2 inches thick; and on this, along its length, are laid steel strips 2 feet apart, with steel wires at a distance of 8 inches on each side, and smaller cross-wires at intervals of 8 inches, cement mortar containing broken stone being spread thickly on this reinforcement. The steel strips are 1 1/4 inches wide and 5-16 inch thick set on edge; the main wires are about 1-5 inch in diameter. The road, resembling in appearance an irregular stone paving with cement joints, costs from $1.20 to $1.40 per square yard, but it is expected that its durability and small repairs will make it as economical as ordinary macadam.

The brightness of the sky is interesting astronomers. The luminosity of the background of the sky proves not only to be greater than the total starlight, but the brightness varies during the night and from one night to another, and increases toward the horizon. It has been suggested that besides starlight we have an "earth light," much of which may be due to a permanent aurora.

For obtaining large photographs of distant objects, a lens of long focus is essential, and such a lens is accommodated without sacrifice of portability in a novel recent camera, which divides the focal length into thirds, the light entering the lens being reflected by two mirrors in a Z-shaped patch to the plate. By this method a camera 16 inches long provides for a lens of 48 inches focus. Another advantage is that the deficient luminosity obtained with ordinary telephotographic cameras is overcome, and rapid instantaneous photographs may be taken, snapshots in 1,000 of a second giving clear and well-defined views. In tests from a free balloon of the Swiss Aero Club, pictures were secured that would have been impossible with ordinary apparatus. From a distance of nearly a mile, scenes in the Rhine valley were photographed, and houses, trees and men were distinctly brought out, although such objects were practically indistinguishable in photographs of the kind usually taken.

Electricity is used in Germany for removing grease from metallic objects. When the metal is used as negative pole in a hot solution of potash or sodalye, sheet iron or pieces of carbon forming the positive, the oil is driven away in a few minutes. It was at first supposed that the alkali transformed the fatty matter into soap. Investigation by Barth, however, has shown that paraffin and other oily substances that cannot be saponified are removed very quickly by the electric current, and the explanation seems to be that the bubbles of hydrogen set free act mechanically to drive off the particle of oil. The action takes place only when the fatty matter is liquid.

Asbestos slates, now produced in Munich, are claimed to have been made quite waterproof and as hard and strong as ordinary slates, so that they may be used for walls and roofs without wooden lathing. They can be bored, cut and nailed like wood. They give fireproof covering, have great value for electrical insulation, and serve for the surface of walls and ceilings of all kinds, doors, bulkheads, etc., to protect them not only from fire but also from heat, cold, dampness, disease germs, and vermin of every variety.

The "Electric Mary Ann" of R. Borlase Matthews is a portable combined electric motor and driving gear, and in a very simple manner gives power for the various little machines of a large household, without the trouble and expense of attaching to a line of shafting or providing an individual motor for each machine. A radius arm attached to the motor-base carries a pulley driven at reduced speed by a belt from the motor spindle. Rigidly fastened to the pulley is a small friction wheel, which can be placed in contact with the driving pulley of any machine to be operated and is given the necessary pressure by a spring at the tail end of the radius arm. For running any machine having a pulley—such as a sewing machine, coffee mill, knife cleaner, meat chopper, vacuum cleaner, or wringer—it is only necessary to rest the friction wheel on the pulley. If machines have cranked handles, these are removed, and an adapter is substituted on which a pulley is fixed. Polishing work, boot cleaning, etc., are done with a flexible shaft connected directly to the spindle of the motor.

A newly-patented material that is claimed to serve most purposes for which platinum is used has a base of such metal as iron, nickel, cobalt, or one of their alloys, and this is coated electrolytically with an alloy of platinum and then with pure platinum. After each successive deposit, the wire or other article is heated to about 1,000 deg. C., causing a welding of the deposit to the metal beneath. Several deposits of platinum may be necessary, and the process is completed only when the heating produces no apparent oxidation. The cost of the platinized metal is much less than that of pure platinum. Platinum is rare and expensive, and is indispensable in many places—such as the chemical and electrical trades—so that some means of lessening the quantity necessary is a matter of great importance.

The curious practice of "sucking shuttles," has aroused discussion among Massachusetts physicians. Weavers in cotton mills draw the filling through the small holes in the shuttle by sucking with the lips, and it has been contended that disease germs may be spread in this way. Other medical men declare that all germs must be effectually removed by the rapid motion of the flying shuttle at work.

Intellectual Features Of the Nose

There is a tolerably close racial parallel between high-nosed and high minded. The nose is not only our most human, but in a broad sense is our most intellectual feature. Growth of nose and shrinkage of jaw have been the two great correlates which have accompanied human progress. The moment, however, that we endeavor to go beyond these broad and loose generalizations, we find ourselves in trouble. This, from the fact, patent to everyone who has kept his eyes open, that we find noses of practically all shapes, from the plebian pug to the aristocratic aquiline, in individuals of the same race, and even in members of the same family, although the long and straight, or convex noses would be far more numerous in the higher races and the abler families. It is comparatively seldom that a great man has a small nose, or even a short one, and instead of applying such terms as "proboscis," "beak," "carrot," and "beet," to a large, long aggressive nose, it would be regarded as a mark of breeding and as prima facie evidence of good blood and possible capacity.—Woods Hutchinson in Success.

Widow Applies for Pension.

Mrs Flora Miller, widow of Joseph Miller, who for many years kept the wayside house known as Miller's station, three miles this side of Ione, has made application to Washington for a pension on account of her deceased husband's service during the civil war. The deceased was an Italian by birth, and enlisted in the Union army under his Italian name of Guiseppe Milinari. At the close of the war he came to California in 1866. He was not disabled from wounds or other causes on account of military service, and never applied for a pension during his lifetime. In Amador county he adopted the Anglicized form of his name—Joseph Miller—and was known by no other name, except perhaps to a few of his Italian friends. Some time after his death, the widow with her children moved to Stockton, where she is residing at present. On making application for pension, the discrepancy between the Italian and English name of the war veteran was noticed. A pension agent named C. L. Sues was detailed to make inquiries concerning this matter. He arrived in Jackson last Friday evening, and left the following morning. There is every probability that the pension will be granted when the gent makes his report clearing up the difference in the spelling of the name.

A marriage license was issued on the 2d instant to Agostino Maffei, 25, a native of Italy, and Angelina Ardissoni, a native of Butte, Montana, both of Jackson.

False Report Corrected

I am informed that reports have been circulated to the effect that if elected to the office of city marshal, I would appoint a deputy, and leave him to attend to the duties of the office. I therefore desire to say that the report is absolutely false. If elected I intend to discharge the duties of marshal in person, and to the best of my ability.
